Key Guidance

There are only three bells in the day to signify the start of the day and the ends of breaks. When the bell rings you must move to your lesson as soon as possible to allow teachers to move safely around.

Between lessons you must move along corridors and stairs in the direction indicated, you should maintain social distance to others, avoid conversations of any type and you must not stop at any time whilst in the corridors.

When you leave a classroom use an outside route to your next lesson if possible, it is safer and there are no one-way restrictions outside but maintain safe social distances to students not in your year group.
